DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Drawings

2. New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because some of the drawings appear to be hand sketches making it difficult to ascertain the various aspects of the invention. Moreover, the drawings appear to be a photocopy of an original, which have blended the line weights further making it difficult to ascertain the various aspects of the invention.

Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

3. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

4. Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;

- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

- 5. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it does not give a concise description of the invention. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Objections

- 6. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Claims 17 and 18, from which claim 19 depends is missing from the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

- 8. Claims 10-13 and 20-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

From the structure of the claims, it appears to the examiner that applicant is attempting to claim the subject matter in a "means plus function format". If the applicant is attempting to place the claims in "means plus function format", applicant is referred to MPEP §§ 2181-2 for an overview of wording the claims to comply with this format.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

9. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

10. Claims 14-16 and 19-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lerner et al (US 4,412,876).

In regard to claims 14,15,20 and 21, Lerner discloses the invention as claimed including a mandrel 60, which opens a continuous tube of labels 11, roller 80 and 84 for advancing the tube, severing mechanism 66, sleeve adding arrangement comprised of first and second holding and releasing portion 272, adjustment mechanism comprised of block 296, which can adjust the position of the releasing portions, opening, advancing and placing the tube on the holding releasing portion, positioning the sleeve on the container 32 and releasing the sleeve around the container (see Figs. 1,3,4,7,8 and C3,L61 - C9,L11).

In regard to claims 16 and 19, Lerner discloses the invention as claimed including independently adjusting mechanisms comprised of sheet shaped planar blocks 296, adjusted by screws (no number given) (see Fig. 7).

In regard to claims 22-24 Lerner discloses the invention as claimed including independently adjusting mechanisms 296 and first and holding and releasing the sleeve around the container 32 (see Figs. 1,3,4,7,8 and C3,L61 - C9,L11).

In regard to claim 25, Lerner discloses the invention as claimed including adjusting screws (no number given) with adjusting block 296 functioning as a stop. (see Figs. 7 and 8).

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claim 10-13 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
12. Claims 26-29 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Cross, Ashcroft, Fujio, Smith, Hadl, Lucke, Amberg, Konstantin, Winter, Nagano, Drewitz, Thebault, Huang and Fresnel have been cited to show devices having similar structure.
